SHOE OVER MILE FROM HIS BODY

One of Unexplained Mysteries Surrounding Death of Charles
Hall Near Milroy.

SHOES NOT EVEN SCRATCHED

Investigation by Grand Jury Will Continue Throughout Tomorrow.
Relatives on Stand.

The grand jury investigation into the death of Charles Hall, the Milroy high school student, whose mangled remains were found along the Big Four track near Williamstown, progressed slowly today, and from all indications another day would be required to hear all of the witnesses. Three were examined this morning and a large number were waiting to be heard.

There was no intimation so far that the grand jury has found any indications of foul play in connection with Hall's death. The three witnesses this morning were Paul Reardon, Ira Fleetwood and Raymond Reardon. The Reardon boys are cousins and Paul resides in Milroy and Raymond in Williamstown. Mr. Fleetwood was one of the first to reach the scene after Hall's body was found. Just what the boys know of the case was impossible to learn.

Coroner Barnett and Dr. Hongland of Milroy were to be used as witnesses and Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, and his two sisters, were also waiting to testify. The grand jury has no stenographer and the work of examining the witnesses takes more time than if they had one. The court was asked for a stenographer, but refused to grant the request.

One of the unexplainable things, it is stated, was the condition of Hall's shoes. He wore half shoes and neither was scratched or marred in any way. This is considered remarkable in view of the fact that his body was torn to pieces and had evidently been dragged quite a distance over the roadbed of the railway. One of the shoes was found close to the remains and the other was standing upright by the side of some lumber in Williamstown, over a mile and one-half away from where the remains were found.

It was stated today that it was natural to believe that the shoes would be badly battered and torn, but this was not the case and so far this has not been explained. Miss Roxie Fishback, the Williamstown girl on whom Hall had been to call on the night of June 3, finished her testimony to the grand jury late yesterday afternoon.

SMALL BLAZE.

Fire caused by an oil stove resulted in small damage this morning at the home of Charles Baldwin in East Eighth street. The fire department was called but a bucket brigade did effective work before the arrival of the department and it was not necessary to throw any water.

The Modern Woodmen will have a class of 25 tonight. This is the second class adoption in the last two months. The class was obtained by O. O. Inman, district deputy, and members of the camp here. State Deputy Head Consul W. A. McGath will be present.

—Mrs. Lee V. Moore and daughter Claribell, of Indianapolis, came today for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Will Amos, south of the city.

BODY WRAPPED IN SHEET

Elizabeth Nolte, Missing Since Tuesday, Murdered at Cincinnati.

(By United Press.)
Cincinnati, O., June 17.—The body of Elizabeth Nolte, her throat slashed, was found wrapped in a sheet in a garbage can in the rear of her home today. The girl had been missing since Tuesday. Her parents believed she had been kidnapped. The scene of the murder is a thickly populated tenement district. The police have no clew.

BLUNDER IN BOND COSTS HIM MONEY

Morris Winship Fails to Land County Infirmary Contract at Connersville Through Oversight.

HIS BID LOWER BY $1,992.43

What was held to be a faulty bond cost Morris M. Winship, of this city, the contract for building the new county infirmary in Fayette county yesterday. Mr. Winship was the low bidder, being $1,992.43 lower than the man that got the contract, but the commissioners refused to give him the contract because his bond was not signed by two freeholders of Fayette county. The blunder in the bond was rather expensive for the taxpayers of Fayette county.

There were five bidders and Mr. Winship offers to do the work for $19,999.90. The next lowest bid was $21,992.33. This one was submitted by S. E. Miller and he was given the contract. There was some talk of attorneys for Mr. Winship contesting the action of the Fayette county commissioners.

TITLE TO EIGHTY ACRES IS INVOLVED

Suit of John C., Rufus and Homer Folger Against Emerson Barnard is Finished.

GAUSE REFUSES APPOINTMENT

The case of John C. Folger, Rufus Folger and Homer Folger against Emerson Barnard, to quiet title, was completed at noon today in the circuit court before Judge Fred C. Gause, of Newcastle. The case was not argued and instead the attorneys will submit briefs to the court. The title to eighty acres of land in Posey township is involved in the suit.

Judge Gause declined to serve as judge in the case of Charles H. Alger against J. Milt Stiers. The suit is on a contract demanding $100. Judge Gause was appointed to hear this case by Judge Sparks and today declined the appointment.

ANNOUNCEMENT AFTER JULY 1.

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 17.—President Wilson will announce his selection of a successor to Former Secretary of State Bryan upon his return shortly after July 4 from his vacation trip to Cornish, N. H., according to authoritative information today.

TO STOP GIVING TRADING STAMPS

Home Merchants Association Business Men Will Redeem all Books or Parts of Books.

UP UNTIL THE FIRST OF JULY

Reported That Stamp Company Had Failed and Merchants Will Lose all of Their Investment.

The Home Merchants association, a trading stamp company, which has been doing business here for several months, has failed, according to word received here, and merchants who had been giving Home Merchant trading stamps, will lose whatever they had invested in stamps because the company will not redeem them.

The Home Merchant stamp business men held a meeting last night and decided to discontinue giving Home Merchant stamps and to redeem all Home Merchant stamp books, or parts of books, presented at the stations by July 1.

No one here seems to know just what happened, but it is reported that some one connected with the company decamped with some funds. Merchants here who have been giving the stamps today did not seem certain just what happened, except that they would lose all the money they paid the company for stamps.

The merchants giving the stamps decided last night that the only fair way to do would be to perform the duty they obligated themselves to with the public and redeem the stamps, regardless of their own loss.

Some of the merchants invested as much as sixty dollars in stamps at the outset and others are said to have invested more than that.

The Home Merchants association is a Kentucky corporation with headquarters at Louisville, Ky. It was the first trading stamp organization to contest the constitutionality of the trading stamp law enacted by the last Indiana legislature. After suit had been filed to test the law, it was discovered that the company had not incorporated under the laws of Indiana and qualified to do business in the state. Later it was announced that the company had qualified and another suit was brought to test the legality of the law. Another company joined with the Home Merchant and a temporary restraining order was granted compelling the prosecuting attorneys not to enforce the trading stamp law for the present. The real issue of the case has never been tried.

It was stated that it was known the affairs of the company were in a bad state for two weeks, but that definite action was not taken until last night. There have not been a great many calls for the stamps, it is said.

"WAR" WORD PRIZE CONTEST.

(By United Press.)
Mesquite, Tex., June 17.—How many times does the word "war" occur in the paper you're now reading? Don't know? Mesquite citizens didn't either, but they've been counting, since a contest, with prizes for the nearest to the correct guess was instituted.

COMMITTEEMEN ARE ANNOUNCED

S. L. Trabue, President of Chamber of Commerce, Makes Public Selections For This Year

SOME NEW ONES CREATED

Style Show Committee is Made Permanent in Hope That Event May be Arranged by Merchants

S. L. Trabue, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Rush County, Ind., today announced the permanent appointments for this year.

One or two new committees were created, and a few that were in existence last year were either changed or discontinued.

One of the new committees that is expected to accomplish something is the style show committee. The members of that committee will mature plans to arrange for a combined style show of Rushville merchants in the spring and fall. The idea is believed to be an ideal one and has been enthusiastically received.

Another new committee is that pertaining to the horse show. Last year the Chamber of Commerce worked in conjunction with the horse show company by assisting in solicitation of donations and in other ways. The committee appointments follow:

Finance, Amusement—Horatio Havens, Chairman, R. L. Tompkins, Walter Easley, A. L. Riggs, O. P. Wamsley.

Membership—W. W. Hubbard, Chairman, Link Guffin, F. E. Wolcott, A. C. Brown, Will Abercrombie.

BATTLE OVER 600 MILES

Decisive Battle Being Waged From North Poland to Buckowina.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, June 17.—The Austro-Germans are now attacking the Russians along a front of more than 600 miles extending from North Poland to Buckowina, said a semi-official statement this afternoon.

"A decisive battle is being waged and important results are expected," it is said. Reports from Petrograd today declared Russian newspapers are severely condemning their Anglo-French allies for their inactivity.

ATTACKS AGAINST GERMANS ARE MADE

Publication Today Disturbs Administration and May Have Caused Suppression of Report.

CONCERNING THE NEBRASKAN

Washington, June 17.—The administration was disturbed today over publication of a flood of anti-German attacks which lacked confirmation. High officials let it be known that sensational newspaper reports implicating German representatives here are viewed with annoyance if not alarm.

In this connection the state department announced that Ambassador Page's report of the Nebraskan case would be withheld indefinitely. It was understood little doubt exists that a torpedo struck the Nebraskan and it was believed publication of the facts was postponed because of a desire to add no fuel to the flame of resentment against Germany.

PREPAREDNESS IS NOT PREVENTATIVE

W. J. Bryan Issues Another Statement That Being Prepared Provokes War.

PRAISES PRESIDENT WILSON

(By United Press.)
Washington, June 17.—Former Secretary of State Bryan in another statement on the "Causeless War" today asserted that preparedness provokes rather than prevents war. He praised President Wilson.

"Happy for our nation that we have in the white house at this time a president who believes in setting the old world a good example instead of following the bad example which it sets in this matter," Bryan said.

He said he believed it would have been difficult for us to have kept out of this war if we had been prepared, for "the leading participants in this war were the ones that were best prepared." Bryan asked: "How can preparedness prevent war if we all prepare?"

SUBMARINE SINKS ANOTHER.

(By United Press.)

PEACE TALK NOW IS PREMATURE

So Regarded in London as British Believe Kaiser Has Reached High Peak of Offensive.

DID NOT ORIGINATE THERE

Allies Determined to Prosecute War Until Germany is Driven Back in Her Own Territory.

BY ED L. KEEN.

(European manager United Press.)
London, June 17.—Although no official statement is now probable, I am authoritatively informed that the allies, especially Great Britain, would regard any German peace overture at this time as premature.

"Great Britain is determined to continue the war at least until Germany is driven back upon her own territory. Any peace talk that has reached the United States certainly has not its origin either in London or any other capital of the allies."

There are several reasons why Great Britain is particularly intending to prosecute the war until the German grip upon Belgium and northern France has been shaken. First of these is the firm belief that Germany has reached and passed the high mark of her offensive efficiency. England believes that from now on the kaiser must fight desperately on the defensive to hold what his armies gained by "getting the jump" on the allies at the beginning of the war.

TRANSPORTS BOMBARDED

Anglo-French Troops Suffer Heavy Losses in Dardanelles.

Constantinople, June 17.—Anglo-French troops at the Dardanelles suffered heavy losses in a bombardment of transports by Turkish batteries on Tuesday, an official statement from the war office said today. "Our artillery has been very effective against the enemy. Our aviators have bombarded British air sheds near Sede-El-Bahr," it continued.

TRAFFORD SENT TO BOTTOM

British Steamer is Sunk by a German Submarine Wednesday.

(By United Press.)
London, June 17.—The British steamer Trafford was sunk by a German submarine thirty miles off the Small Islands yesterday. Her crew was landed at Milford Haven this morning.

In nearly the same spot, the London steamer Turnwell from Liverpool to New York, was stopped by a submarine and her crew ordered to take to the boats.

THREE TRANSPORTS SUNK.

(By United Press.)
Athens, June 17.—A British submarine sank three Turkish transports laden with troops for Dardanelles operations on Wednesday. A dispatch from Mudros this afternoon contained no mention of the fate of the Turkish soldiers.

U-14 IS DESTROYED.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, June 17.—The admiralty today officially admitted that the German submarine U-14 had been destroyed by the British and its crew taken prisoner.

WHEAT CUTTING IS NOT FAR AWAY

Hum of the Binder Will be Heard in Rush County Next Week, it is Stoutly Asserted.

RAIN CUTS A BIG FIGURE

Delays Corn Cultivation, Damages
Clover Hay and Causes Some of
The Wheat to Stay Down.

The hum of the binder is going to be heard in Rush county next week. This is the stout assertion of many who have been driving throughout the county this week. In spite of the fact that there has been much rain and little sunshine this month, wheat has been filling out rapidly and is now ripening very fast.

The rainfall in Rush county for the first half of this month set new records, it is believed, but it did not much more than make up for the lack of rain earlier in the spring, it is believed.

In some counties some farmers have not yet planted their corn because of the frequent rains, but in this county, it is said, there is no corn to be planted yet. Much corn was planted earlier than usual and in the majority of cases farmers did not suffer from early planting.

The majority of the corn is up and has been cultivated, but the rains have interfered greatly with this work and many fields were weedy and look almost as green as pasture land. It is stated that some corn can not recover from the lack of cultivation and that in this way the rains may indirectly damage the corn yield to some slight extent. Some farmers have resorted to the use of the hoe, but the work can not be done very fast or effectively that way.

The effects of the wind of last Sunday, which blew down much wheat in Rush county, can hardly be seen now. Some of the heavier straw, however, will never come up.

The rain is damaging the clover crop. It is good sized this year and is ready to cut for hay, but the loss will be considerable. If the hay has not been cut, it is leaning over from its own sheer weight because it is so wet, and that which has been cut is rotting on the ground. The clover is long and heavy and requires much sunshine to cure it.

SUN GETS UP EARLY IN MORNING NOW

Rises at 4:28 And Will Continue to do so Until June 23—Longest Day June 22
DAY OF 15 HOURS, 6 MINUTES

The earliest hour for sunrise this summer is 4:28 a. m., at which hour the sun began to appear above the horizon Tuesday morning and will appear every morning until June 23. A variation of a few seconds will be noticeable each morning. Odd as it may appear the days for the latest hour for sunset do not coincide with the days for the earliest sunrise. The latest sunset hour will be 7:35 o'clock the evenings of June 30 and July 1. The longest day will be June 22 when the sun will rise at 4:28 o'clock in the morning and set at 7:34 o'clock in the evening, making a day of 15 hours and 6 minutes. Morning twilight will begin at 2:22 and evening twilight at 9:41 p. m., making a total of 4 hours and 13 minutes of twilight. That will leave four hours and 41 minutes darkness unaffected by the direct rays of the sun on June 22. The crescent moon between the first quarter and the full moon will shine that night until 1:02 in the morning "getting full" when it will set, thus leaving only 1 hour and 22 minutes when the direct or indirect rays of the sun will have no influence. The sun will be on the meridian of Washington at 12:01:37 on that day. The days on which noon and the meridian reading come most nearly co-inciding will be June 14 when the meridian will be reached 6 seconds before 12 o'clock and June 15, when it will be reached 6 seconds after 12 o'clock.

Fashionable Girls Are Actually Wearing Fur Boas In Summer

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for United Press.)
Oh where is our white pussy cat? For days she's not been seen. Alack! she's wrapped around the throat.
Some summer girl, I ween
New York, June 17.—Pretty pussy better not stray far from home and hearth these days if she be white as snow. I doubt if even the gentle bunny ought to feel overly safe in his cosy hatch now that the dear fashionable girls are now all demanding white fur boas for the heated season. Positively it's enough to discourage any union thermometer the way the damsels are all wrapped up in these fur neck pieces. Why they are in them up to their very ears.
Truth in this instance is indeed stranger than fiction for what modern author ever would have the nerve to write "It was a close sultry afternoon in June as Belinda, wrapped a snowy fur boa about her no less snowy throat glided rapturously into Percy's waiting arms." And yet we are in the midst of June and in the midst of fur swathed Belindas. Yea verily this is going a bit fur.

Even the gorgeous new silk sweaters of Italian silk dyed in the most wonderful shades of green, rose, blue and yellow are not quite the last word unless they be finished with a wide fur band around the hips and with a similar pelt edging the abbreviated sailor collar.
Many smart and fluffy little summer dance and evening frocks of chiffon, net or organdie are banded sparingly around the low cut out neck or have as a heading for one of the multitudinous flounces of the skirt narrow widths of unspotted ermine. An ebony hue dance frock of net is stunning with a touch of the startlingly contrasted white fur banding. An all white organdie crisp with many fluted ruffles, is virginal and yet chic with the square cut out bodice outlined with the snowy fur.
Even bathing suits cannot escape the fur craze and a cerise taffeta is foolishly decked out with an edging of unspotted ermine around the very low V shaped neck. It serves as a trimming also on the wide shade hat of cerise rubberized silk.

Another ridiculous but beautiful beach costume, for one can hardly go so far as to designate them as bathing suits, is of peacock blue taffeta trimmed in tinsel ribbon. The short full skirt is composed of four ruffles each with an edge of gold. Tinsel edges the three tiny ruffles that form the sleeves and finishes the wee ruffling outlining the very much cut out back and front low neck line. A Chinese cap of the blue with a gold tassel caps this glittering garb and peacock blue sandals have tinsel lace that twist around high up around the peacock blue silk incased limb turning it into a golden calf.
Proving that "beauty unadorned adorned the most" is still as true as the first time it was quoted are the one piece bathing suits of silk Jersey

Amusements
The Gem will show a two reel feature "The Guardian of the Flock" for the first picture tonight. J. Warren Kerrigan is featured and it is said to tell a beautiful story. The other is a drama "The Supreme Impulse." William Garwood and Violet Mersereau are featured. Tomorrow night the feature "The Mysterious Contragrav" will be shown.

The Princess will show the two reel feature comedy "By the Sea" for the first picture tonight. Charles Chaplin, the famous Essanay comedian is featured and it is said to be a very funny picture. The other is a railway drama "A Life in the Balance." Helen Holmes is featured and is another of the thrilling series.

The Mystic will show the two reel western drama "The Law of the Wild" for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a beautiful drama. The other is a comedy entitled "Fatty and His New Role." Tomorrow night the feature picture "The Jury Room" will be shown.

in all the brightest hues that are worn decorously shrouded with stunning bathing mantles of the same shaded silk lined with awning striped silk in two brilliant contrasting colors. Certainly these simple next to nature bathing suits have it all over the fuss fur and feathers of the elaborate costumes unfortunately, however, not only do they cost a pretty figure but they need a pretty figure as well. As for the head coverings that offer their varied charms to the fair bather this season they are enough to turn the mermaids sea green with envy. There are the Chin Chin caps with their bright bobbing tassels, the gay little shady Coolie hats with their quaint cone shaped tops, smart rubberized turbans trimmed in rubberland and realistic flowers and fruits, military visored caps and striking black and white checked and striped silk handkerchief caps with sassy rabbit ear knots in front.

There are even dainty reticules and hand bags to dangle from a bathers wrist that hold within their ornate and waterproof silken folds the indispensable powder puff and rouge a mirror and a mouchoir. So you see there is really more to a bathing costume than you might think at a first and fleeting glance.

More Imports—Less Revenue.

Despite the handicaps to unrestricted trade caused by the European war, the total imports for April last reached the sum of $160,576,106, compared with $159,677,291 in July 1914, the last peace month under the Democratic tariff law. But whereas the imports for July, 1914, paid into the National Treasury the sum of $22,988,465, the imports for April, 1915, $1,000,000 greater, paid but $16,020,690 of revenue, a decrease of 32 per cent. Compared with the prevailing rate of duty during the entire period of the Underwood law up to March 1915, the decrease in the rate of duty for April was 25 per cent. The decrease in March was 7.7 below the prevailing rate.

In other words, farm products, which were nearly all put on the free list by the Underwood act, are becoming an increasingly larger share of our import trade. This hits the farmer and the Government revenues at the same time.

At the close of business for the week ending June 5, the Government's expenditures had exceeded receipts to the amount of $129,733,634.11. The balance in the Treasury was $16,457,498.70, as compared with a balance of $136,861.94 on the same date in 1913, before Democratic revenue and appropriation laws had taken effect.

Imports of Corn

In July, 1913, there were imported into the United States about 2000 bushels of corn. In October the Democratic tariff law put corn on the free list. In July, 1914, the importations of corn amounted to 1,764,575 bushels. In practically all the corn growing states there are boys' corn clubs, maintained for the purpose of teaching boys how to select seed and increase productivity with the hope of making corn growing more profitable for the American farmer. If every manager of a boys' club will give his pupils the figures quoted above, it is a safe prediction that when the lads arrive at voting age they will do something in addition to seed selection to make corn growing more profitable in this country. There will not only be fewer missing hills in the corn but more missing cargoes of corn imports.

It has been stated that Edward I. Swanson, the only man ever hung in Rush county, just before his death, sang "Nearer My God to Thee." That was in 1829 and it is asserted that song was not written at that date. Although the song he sang is said to be known to some persons, it is nameless. In this emergency, the suggestion might be allowed that it be called the Swansong.

The United States bureau of labor statistics has issued a bulletin showing that the high cost of living is increasing steadily and has revealed a "healthy" advance in 1914, as compared to the year previous, when it was highest in the history of the United States. What has become of the boasted reduction in the high cost of living talked of so fluently by campaign orators in 1912!

Here's Where The Fun Comes In Green With Envy.

Roy Magill, erstwhile Eatonolite, who has unjustly, falsely, maliciously and with evil intentions accused certain honorable citizens of Rushville with having designs on his motoreycle, an instrument of prehistoric ages that the commonest and tamest driving mare can not become accustomed to, has seen fit to compare his beast of prey with a Ford. He has caused to be published a statement that the persons above-mentioned exchanged a wrench from their automobile for one on his two-legged varmint.

The presumption is that Mr. Magill is green with envy for his friends will no longer take him for a ride in their machines because every time he spits it sounds like a blow-out and he drives the driver insane.

People's Column

I wish in this way to express my sincere thanks to the Big Flatrock Sunday school for those beautiful havelin china pates which I received at the close of the Children's day program there June 6. I have directed this work there for over twenty years and consider it a pleasure rather than a burden. During all these years there has been the best of feeling, which speaks well for parents and children. We only hope the many beautiful lessons we have tried to teach will be for service and usefulness in His service.

Industrial Relations Commission Urges Government to Insure Against Sickness

IS EFFECTIVE IN EUROPE

Low Paid Worker is Unable to Take Insurance in The Existing Organizations

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 17.—There are already several million wage-earners in the United States insured in sickness insurance plans and organizations, and sickness insurance is even now recognized almost universally as the most feasible method by which workers can meet the expenses and the loss of wages occasioned by ill-health. The great majority of the insured workers, however, are the better paid; the low-paid worker who is least able to meet the cost of sickness and weather the periods of unemployment that sickness forces upon him, is rarely insured. The development of the existing agencies organizations into national or state systems of sickness insurance similar to those which have been so effective in European countries, is the next step for the United States.

These are striking facts brought out in a report on sickness insurance to the Federal Commission of Industrial Relations prepared by Surgeon B. S. Warren, of the United States Public Health Service who was detailed as sanitary advisor to the Commission, and Edgar Sydenstricker, a member of the Commission's staff, according to an announcement by the Bureau of the Public Health Service here.

The report includes the results of a study of the various sickness insurance systems in Europe and of plans in the United States. It strongly advocates a governmental system, in which employers, employees and the public contribute to the fund and co-operate in its control and administration, and which is closely linked to the governmental health promoting agencies, as the most effective from all sickness insurance for wage-earners. The report points out that in nearly all European countries the private sickness insurance plans and methods have given away to governmental systems now exist in Great Britain, Germany, Austria, Norway, Serbia, Russia, Luxembourg, Roumania, Italy (for miners) and France (for miners, seamen, and railway employees.)

The chief shortcomings of private or non-governmental sick benefit plans in this country are pointed out to be: (1) the low paid worker, who is financially unable to provide for healthful conditions and to meet the cost of illness, is not insured; (2) the employer as well as the employee has not a sufficient incentive to reduce prevalence of disease in their places of work, in homes of workers; (3) there is no close correlation of sickness insurance with the public health department, bureaus and boards.

A governmental system of sickness insurance, says the report, will prove to be a preventive measure as well as a method of enabling the low-paid worker to tide over periods of illness, since the cost of insurance is determined by the amount of sickness to be provided for. The lower the sick rate of any industry, trade or locality, the lower it is possible to put the rate of contribution by employer, employee, and government. A governmental system necessarily implies that all workers of a trade or industry in any locality will be insured. This will it is believed, enable the cost of insurance per insured person to be much less than it now provided for in the trade union, employers' sick benefit funds, and mutual benefit societies.

DECLARE THE CREW WAS INCOMPETENT

Survivors of Lusitania Also Swear

Captain Ordered Them to Stop

Lowering Life Boats.

PLENTY FOR AN EMERGENCY

(By United Press.)

London, June 17.—Charges that incompetency of the Lusitania's crew was partly responsible for the heavy loss of life when the liner was sunk by a submarine were made by survivors who testified today at the official inquiry. A passenger named Baker swore that the steamer lacked competent men to aid in lowering the boats and that several passengers undertook the task.

"I was helping to put one boat over," said Baker, "when one of Captain Turner's staff named Anderson megaphoned from the bridge: 'Stop lowering that boat. There is no danger. The ship isn't going to sink!'"

Recalled to the stand, Captain Turner denied he told passengers to leave the life boats. Mrs. Rossiter, a survivor, flatly contradicted Captain Turner. She said she heard the captain's order to leave the boats.

"The life boat I was in began leaking badly, the minute it struck the water," testified William Carins. "It had been lowered by the passengers because only a few of the crew were on deck. I jumped out when I saw the boat was going down and immediately afterward it disappeared. I don't know what became of the passengers who were in it."

The Lusitania did not carry anything in her cargo not possible under the laws of the United States, Sir Edward Carson, representing the board of trade, declared at the resumption of the inquiry into the sinking of the liner today. He offered in evidence an official statement to that effect.

Chief Steward Jones of the Lusitania testified today that the supply of life belts aboard was sufficient for emergencies.

Some Goodyear supremacies can be seen at a glance. Compare size and thickness with the average tire. Compare number of fabric plies.

Prices Down

Goodyear has made in about two years three great price reductions, totaling 45 per cent. The last was on February 1st. Our matchless output enables a value which no other maker can duplicate.

Goodyears mean less trouble, less upkeep. That is proved by our exclusive features, our dominant place, and the swelling Goodyear tide. We urge you to join this army. Any dealer will supply you.

SERVICE

Of the three essentials—strength, organization and service—afforded to clients of this Bank, SERVICE is not the least important.

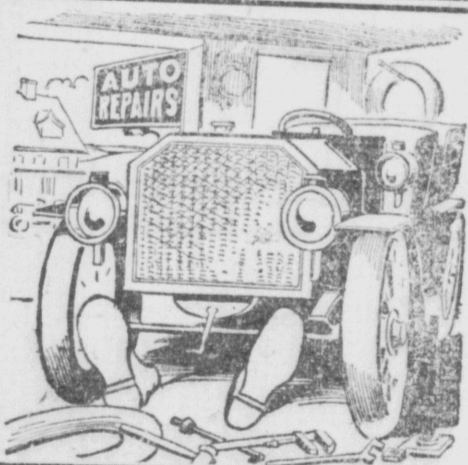

The Bank's entire organization is permeated with the spirit of service. It is not enough to accept and safeguard the banking and trust business of clients; every effort is put forth to be of additional active service, within the Bank's proper sphere.

For example, the Bank, if appointed custodian of securities, will as agent sign ownership certificates required by the Federal Income Tax Law, collect dividends and coupons promptly as they mature, and either credit or remit the proceeds to the client; and will promptly notify him should any "rights" or other subscription privileges attach to the securities held.

Another example, clients are welcome to the Bank's facilities for investment and for investigating and analyzing the value of securities.

Many other examples of special service to clients might be mentioned, all of which would help to explain the rapid and substantial growth of this Bank's business.

BONE PLAYS ARE STILL PLAYED

Larry Doyle Pulls Latest When he Caught Ball That he Had Hit to The Outfielder

MERKLE'S NEVER FORGOTTEN

Jess Willard And Jim Coffey to Meet in Ten Rounds at Brighton Beach Labor Day

BY BARR YFARIS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, June 17.—Fred Merkle "pulled a boner" that cost the New York Giants a pennant. That was years ago but the fans have never forgotten. "Bonehead" is hurled at him to this day. "Laughing Larry" Doyle was guilty of a thoughtless act fully as bad or worse than Merkle's a couple of weeks ago but already his lapse of memory has been forgotten. It came in a game that didn't particularly count. Which causes one to think that, after all, it isn't what you do that hurts—it is when you do it.

Merkle's "bone," as is well known was in forgetting to touch second in order to complete a play. Doyle's stunt was even more glaring piece of stupidity. With a man on third and one out Doyle hit a long fly to the outfield in a recent series at Boston. The man on third—Burns—dashed for the plate after the ball was caught. The ball was hit so far that he was sure to score. Doyle rounded first just as the ball was thrown in from the outfield. The ball came directly at him and he reached out and caught it, tossing it to a Boston player. Immediately a protest was lodged with the umpire, who thereupon called Burns out because Doyle had interfered with the ball.

Doyle, who has been one of the National league stars for years, had no alibi. He frankly admitted he had been guilty of a "boner." His only explanation was that he thought as Burns had crossed the plate the play was completed and that his touching the ball would have no effect.

Had Doyle's play been made in a world's series game, as Merkle's was, he would have been marked for the remainder of his baseball career. He would have taken Merkle's place in the gallery of bonehead plays. But as it was done in just an ordinary, everyday battle, it quickly slips from sight—and thought.

It is almost a settled fact that Jess Willard and Jim Coffey are to meet in a ten round argument at the Brighton Beach arena on Labor Day. The horde of managers and promoters entangled in guiding Willard's affairs have been dickering with Promoter Harry Pollok and Coffey's manager, Billy Gibson, and have about agreed on terms. Coffey is recuperating following his hand-busting contest with Jim Flynn and it is understood he won't battle before the Labor Day date so as to be certain that he won't run a chance of losing and thereby killing himself as an opponent for Johnson's conqueror.

A Willard-Coffey bout now—especially a ten round affair—seems mighty futile. That the champion will win seems a certainty. Coffey's showing against the battle-scarred veteran, Jim Flynn, showed that he is no match, at least now, for the title holder. Willard is heavier, taller, a harder puncher and able to take more punishment than the big Irish battler. In his clash with Flynn, Coffey gave indications of having a "glass" jaw. When Flynn caught him with a swing Coffey zig-zagged around and appeared considerably dazed. Flynn's poor judgement of distance is all that saved Coffey from a knockout. Flynn's swings were wild. Had he been able to connect a second time Coffey likely would have gone down for keeps.

Willard would be a twenty to one shot to win from Coffey. But the promoters have to eat—as do the managers—and the public will undoubtedly flock to the bout by the thousands.

"Yellow" Williams, Cambridge City's second baseman, is one of the best second sackers in the Indiana State League. Williams has had league experience and is a valuable man to the infield. He will be seen here Sunday when Cambridge City plays the Rushers.

WORLD PEACE MEETING OPENS

Conference to Consider League of Nations Open in Famous Independence Hall

WILLIAM H. TAFT PRESIDES

Several Proposals Will be Submitted One of Which Would Have U. S. Join With Other Countries

(By United Press.)

Philadelphia, June 17.—A world-wide peace conference convened here today in historic Independence Hall to consider the formation of a League of Nations. Fostered by ex-President William Howard Taft, who will preside at the meeting, the conference is said to have the unofficial endorsement of President Wilson.

The movement is regarded as the most definite step yet taken toward international amity. Attending the conference are over one hundred prominent men of this country—public officials, international law experts, humanitarians and presidents of universities.

The conference was called not merely for the purpose of discussing abstract questions of peace and arbitration, but to put squarely before the conference a proposition for the United States to join a peace league composed of every great nation. The league is intended to bind the signatories to agree to certain definite lines of international action, the most important of which is that the Powers joining the league utilize their joint military forces to prevent any one of their number going to war precipitately.

Two other proposals will be submitted for the conference consideration. One provides for the creation of an international judicial tribunal and the other aims to create an international Council of Conciliation—which has not been discussed hitherto—for questions that are known as non-justiciable, or those not considered triable in a judicial tribunal.

FELL FROM CHERRY TREE.

Florence Fleehart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fleehart, fell from a cherry tree this morning at the home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John D. Megee, corner of Eighth and Harrison street, but escaped with only a few bruises. She was on a limb about ten feet from the ground and it broke under the weight. No bones were broken.

CHERRY TREE VICTIM.

Donald Hinchman, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hinchman, Jr., living two miles south of Fairview, fell out of a cherry tree at his home yesterday afternoon and was badly injured. He broke both arms and was badly shaken up.

RUSHERS OUT FOR REVENGE

Face Hard Game in Cambridge City Contest But Team is Confident of Winning.

HOPES TO KEEP LEAD IN RACE

Hewitt Will Oppose Black and a Pitchers' Battle is Expected—Other League Games.

The Rushers face another hard game Sunday afternoon when they tackle Cambridge City of the Indiana State League. Cambridge City has been playing consistent ball and two weeks ago battled Newcastle for eleven innings. The Rushville team is out to win and thus retain the lead in the league race. Manager Davidson and the club directors are out to win the pennant and right now believe the team is the equal of any in the circuit.

The Cambridge City team has been strengthened by the addition of a real pitcher. The pitcher is Black, late of Ohio State league, and the Rushers may have some trouble with him. The Cambridge City backers are figuring on their team running all over Rushville and one of the best games of the season is expected to result as considerable rivalry has been stirred up.

The Rushville team will line up the same as in the game with Connersville with the exception of the first baseman. Edward Sandman will again play first base and his hitting should help the team. The umpire for Sunday's game has not been announced by the league officials but one thing is certain the Cambridge City gang will cut out the rag chewing because the umpire is empowered to stick on a few fines.

Other league games Sunday are Cincinnati at Connersville and Newcastle at Richmond. Great interest is shown here in the outcome of all of these games. On the following Sunday Richmond plays here, being the first appearance of a Richmond team here for several years.

The club officials are preparing to take care of a large crowd Sunday. The club has not had a very good season so far on account of the weather and the officials are hoping for a good day Sunday. The class of ball as being displayed in the Indiana circuit should have the support and if this kind of ball is not supported the fans evidently don't care for baseball.

INCOME TAX FALLS DUE ONCE MORE

Internal Revenue Collector Sends Out

Notices Calling Attention to End of Year June 30.

EARLY SETTLEMENT URGED

Income tax payments must be made on or before June 30, 1915, according to a notice that has been sent out by Collector Peter J. Krueger, with offices in Indianapolis. The official order is as follows:

"Income tax payments (corporations and individuals) are due and payable on or before June 30, 1915. On account of the enormous rush of business during the month of June in the internal revenue office early settlement of taxes is urged. This will enable the office to issue receipts promptly and give ample time for any adjustment before the final date of payment on June 30, 1915.

The deputy collectors are urging all those who owe income tax to settle with the government by the date mentioned in the notice, as failure to do so might mean an additional payment for penalty.

THE FIRST THING A GOOD DOCTOR PRESCRIBES

A good physic and liver stimulant is usually the first remedy prescribed by the physician when called to a case. He does so because he knows that most of our ills are directly or indirectly due to constipation, sluggish liver, etc.; therefore his first concern is to reach and remove the probable cause of the illness, and the system, relieved of this poisonous feces, again becomes normal.

And that is exactly the idea behind Santal Laxative Tablets, a remedy for constipation, indigestion, and liver troubles, every ingredient of which has been passed on and approved by an eminent chemist, which you or any of your family may take and which easily and painlessly, but thoroughly and effectively, will cleanse your system, stimulate your liver, thereby ridding your organs and your blood of many of the underlying causes of illness and trouble.

Santal Laxatives contain no calomel. They are mild yet very effective. Do not gripe nor irritate.

We know Santal Laxatives will satisfy you. So positive are we of this that we sell Santals under a broad money-back guarantee, viz.: If in your judgment they don't give you the results you expect, send us the empty box; we will refund your money.

Santals are on sale at your druggist's. Ten doses, 10c. Send for a box, take one tonight and make tomorrow bright. A physician's trial package free, if you mention this advertisement when you write. Santal Remedies Co., 505 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, O.

RESULTS SHOWN IN BIG REVIVAL

Campaign to "Save Terre Haute" is Creating Great Interest—
2,500 Converts so Far

CONDUCTED BY THE REV. LYON

Has Attacked Successfully Every
Social Institution in City
Where Liquor is Sold

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Ind., June 17.—That the pendulum which has swung to the extreme in vice in Terre Haute is swinging rapidly back in the opposite direction is indicated by the results of an eight week's evangelistic campaign conducted by Rev. Milford F. Lyon under the direction of thirty-seven Protestant churches which united in an effort to "save Terre Haute."

The big parade in which ten thousand church members participated has been the most stirring event of the long series of meetings during which more than 2,500 persons in tabernacle audiences alone have decided to lead Christian lives.

The parade was headed by an electric lighted cross drawn by four white horses. City officials, Chamber of Commerce men and the members of the Lyon party followed. The large choruses sang through megaphones their hymns resounding wonderfully throughout the heart of the business section. Never before in the history of Terre Haute has there been such a demonstration for any cause. Scores have made decisions to start life anew in the dozens of shops, factory and store meetings that have been held by the members of the Lyon party.

The tabernacle which was especially erected for the meetings has a seating capacity of more than six thousand and has been filled almost nightly and on numerous occasions hundreds have been turned away. Two choruses of eight hundred voices have been alternately providing the music for the night meetings.

Large delegations numbering in the hundreds have marched through the streets of the city singing gospel songs and carrying banners with religious inscriptions to the meeting place every night. In these delegations have been men and women of every walk of life. From factory to bank—all institutions have been represented. One of the notable features among the women delegations has been an organization of girls from an enameling works whose singing has attracted wide attention.

More than three hundred business women have organized for Bible study and to take up the "big sister" movement. This means that every member is to look after the welfare of some girl who needs encouragement or perhaps has fallen.

"Terre Haute will be saved now or never in this generation" is what Rev. Lyons has told his audiences. "There will be a new Terre Haute" he added.

He has met with criticisms of his meetings with this remark:—"You don't like revivals; neither does the devil." He has attacked every social institution where liquor has been served. He attacked the Terre Haute country club most bitterly.

Social functions among the church people even the church societies regular social meetings have been dispensed with entirely during the revival. Since the meetings started all the liquor laws have been enforced in Terre Haute—midnight and Sunday closing. One third of the houses in the "redlight" district have been vacated. Dr. Lyon claims it was the influence of the meetings that brought about the changes. He said further that his life had been threatened by the saloon interests because he had gone after them so bitterly. "I don't know whether I will leave Terre Haute in a baggage car or in a Pullman" he said.

Harsh criticism was made of the Terre Haute school board for permitting the pupils to dance at their social functions held at the schools. He said the dance had sent as many young people on the wrong road as booze. He scored the use of cigarettes and said that a preacher that used tobacco was no better than a dog.

Next to the large number of conversions perhaps the most important event of the meetings will be the organization after the revival ends of all Protestant churches that have participated in the campaign for the purpose of continuing the work of redeeming Terre Haute.

DISPUTES PART OF VETTER'S STORY

George W. Looney, Jr., of This City Says His Great Uncle Never Moved From Here to Missouri.

MORE OF THE SWANSON STORY

George W. Looney, Jr., 827 North Main street, disputes the statement of Chas. Vetter, of Greenfield formerly of this county, made in a letter to the Daily Republican, that David Looney, who buried Edward I. Swanson, the only man ever hung in Rush county, moved to Missouri from Rush county. David Looney was a great uncle of George W. Looney, Jr., of this city, and Mr. Looney says that he lived and died on what is now known as the Wesley Mauzy farm east of the city.

Mr. Looney says that his uncle did what few men would have done. He buried Swanson, unassisted, in an unmarked grave on his farm "in the dead of the night." Mr. Looney says that no one ever knew where the body of Swanson lay because his uncle never confided in anyone in that regard.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or Bladder troubles you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it causes a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. SHEDS NEW LIGHT ON EDUCATION

Bulletin From State Department Explains More Fully Practical Side of Vocational Work.

INTERESTS FARMERS IN BOYS

In 1914 20,000 Pupils Cultivated Home Gardens Under Direction of Public Schools.

Indianapolis, June 17.—While in a general way the people of the state have heard and known something of the vocational educational work undertaken under the state law, and while the people patronizing the rural schools have probably a more direct and intimate knowledge of the agricultural instruction in the rural schools, the bulletin just issued by the state department of public instruction serves to shed a new and better light. This bulletin is splendidly illustrated and treats especially of agricultural instruction and gives a summary of what has been accomplished as shown by official reports.

There is nothing more practical or valuable to the community and the individual than this one feature in all the branches taught in any of the schools. It is the education that has taught the farmer's boy in Indiana to produce forty-seven more bushels of corn to the acre than his father produces the same year in an adjoining field. The boys have also produced this larger crop at 21 cents a bushel against the state average of 35 cents a bushel. The farmers are naturally becoming interested in what the boys are doing.

Dairy herds have been improved and many cows have been sent to the butcher because the boys and girls have "shown the folks" the milk was useless when put to scientific test. Others of the herd have been made to improve the milk production by proper feeding methods. Whole herds have grown more valuable by elevating the stock with little or no extra expense to the farmer. Boys and girls have been allowed to take home milk testing apparatus in order many times "to convince the rest of the family."

Orchards long neglected and of no apparent productive value have been revived and improved by proper pruning, spraying, grafting and budding, and in many instances the bulletin tells us that in addition to the planting of new orchards by the boys the care of the old ones has been turned over entirely by their fathers with excellent results. The bulletin says further that interest in these matters is by no means confined to the rural districts, but that in 1914 "twenty thousand pupils in town and city schools in Indiana cultivated home gardens under the direction of the public schools."

Poultry raising has not only been taught on practical lines at the schools but in a far more attractive way has it been taught by the pupils working at home. This adds new interest to the work and study. It applies the knowledge directly and at once to something extremely practical. It is the actual development of the productive side of poultry study by working with the hens each pupil owns. Both boys and girls are most earnest in this one line and a large buyer in one of the counties tells us in this bulletin that as the result of introducing better and purer breeds and getting reliably uniform eggs from the boys and girls he was able to pay them two cents a dozen more than formerly for the eggs. He also knows their hens will lay in winter. A demand was created. The eggs were larger and were of one size and looked much better in the grocers' stock.

In the care and management, breeding and feeding of all kinds of stock the scholars are very soon impressed with the importance of eliminating scrubs and improving and building up the herds, rather than allowing them to take care of themselves in any old way and deteriorate. Fathers and mothers who were at first prejudiced because of this smashing of precedents which were

"good enough for us" have recognized the improvements and many farms in the state are examples of the elevating influences of these schools.

Testing of corn and other seeds before planting has had its value so thoroughly demonstrated from the profit side that there are some counties where the farmers are almost a unit in refusing to plant untested seed of any sort. While testing seed has been advocated for many years and by some farmers practiced, one year of teaching it in the schools, taking it home in practical demonstration to the individual farms and trying it out, has done more in Indiana than years of talk in granges and publishing editorials in newspapers.

The bulletin just issued is supplied with specific information from nearly all the counties, telling exactly what has been and is being done, and while the general comments seem most surprising they are really surpassed in the recital of specific instances.

As a result of the work in the schools about Valparaiso, for instance, the farmers became so much interested that they organized an evening class to meet every Friday night, and this class is instructed by the same man who has been teaching their boys. This same thing is happening all over the state. These Valparaiso farmers are now raising alfalfa on land that they were sure would never produce it. The boys and that night school grew alfalfa.

At Worthington seven boys of the seventh, eighth and high school grades are managing 546 acres of corn on their fathers farms this year. Others are raising poultry while still others have planted tomatoes. The teacher of their school is giving his attention to instructing them in the field.

About Trafalgar the boys have planted several orchards for the farmers and are restoring old ones. They are looking after these as they develop and are being paid for the work. They are experts with the assistance of the teachers. The farmers in this same neighborhood go to the school with questions about the treatment of their soils and the planting of certain crops.

The instruction to pupils at Pine Village is given almost exclusively on the home farms of the pupils. The first year of this work saw 1500 acres planted with tested corn where not a grain had ever been tested before. Improved methods of planting and cultivation go with the better seed.

These are by no means isolated cases, but are taken at random from this bulletin. They illustrate the general rule all over the state. There are 7600 teachers in Indiana giving their attention to this agricultural teaching. It is because this is so large and so interesting a subject that State Superintendent of Public Instruction Greathouse has prepared an illustrated pamphlet for general distribution and has already sent out a few thousand copies upon application and to many whom he judged would be interested.

Great Sale of Buggies

Now Going On All the Time at

J. W. Tompkins

This sale will hold good for 60 days if I don't run out of goods. Sale 1—Low Down Steel Spreader—the price is right. No one has a better spreader for the money.

Sale 2—Deering Binders and Mowers. They have the latest improvements. The binder has 18 inch shorter trucks than any other binder made.

I sell Gasoline Engines, all sizes, Grinding Mills, and I have 3½ horse power and 4½ horse power engines. Call on R. H. Berry or J. W. Tompkins and you can see them work. They are made by the Olds Manufacturing company.

The Buggies I am going to sell are the best goods I have in my store. They are the Columbia. I have sold them for 15 years. The reason I am selling these goods is I have no room for them. You can buy these goods lower than ever before sold. Sam Young says you had better buy one. It is a good one. Sam won't lie.

A PLAIN STATEMENT FROM WM G. MULNO IN REGARD TO HIS

CHANGE-OF-POLICY SALE

Commencing June 19th, Ending July 3d

I must immediately close out my entire stock. I am not going out of business, but this sale is absolutely necessary before I can carry out my plans for my future business.

There is a demand in Rushville for a store specializing in Ready Made Clothing of genuine value at the popular prices of $10 and $15. I am going to re-organize my business immediately upon that basis.

On August First I open a new store under this new policy. This change demands that I close out all high-priced ready-made clothing. I do not want to move a dollar's worth of goods from the present store. Everything must be sold. I want to go into the new store with an absolutely new stock.

This is not an ordinary sale—not a mere clean-up such as you might expect at the season's end—but a complete closing out of stock right in season at

Seventy-five Cents on the Dollar

Look at the values offered! Practically 500 suits—all standard makes—A. B. Kirschbaum, Garson-Meyer Co., and the Roberts Wicks Co.'s lines for men and young men—also the Ederheimer-Stein Co.'s line of boys' and children's clothing—quality goods—at prices you cannot afford to overlook.

Light-weight, seasonable goods—ready to put on and wear now. Each suit plainly marked with the original price and special price for this sale. There are a few overcoats, too, at prices that will pay you to buy now and lay them away until cold weather comes

Fifty-three $10.00 Suits Sale Price $7.50	Sixty-five $12.50 Suits Sale Price $9.37	One hundred $15.00 Suits Sale Price $11.25	Ninety four $18.50 Suits Sale Price $13.88	Sixty-nine $20.00 Suits Sale Price $15.00	Fifty-seven $22.50 Suits Sale Price $16.88	Forty $25.00 Suits Sale Price $18.75

A New Store--A New Policy

In our new store we will specialize exclusively in extra-quality hand-tailored suits at $10 and $15. For those who wish higher-priced garments, we will carry a complete assortment of samples from which you may choose your own materials and have your suits made-to-measure at $16.50, $18 and $20. In selling these made-to-measure garments at these prices, we can give greater values and increased satisfaction. The Mulno policy of quality and guaranteed satisfaction will prevail. We please you or refund your money. Every article we sell is backed by our established reputation for honesty, courtesy and extra-full value.

BUT WE MUST SELL AT ONCE EVERY DOLLAR'S WORTH OF STOCK IN THE PRESENT STORE. WE MUST NOT MOVE IT.

---	---	---	--	---	--	---

In adopting the new policy for the new store, it is absolutely impossible to carry in stock the higher-priced ready-made clothing, as we will need every foot of space for the larger stock of popular-priced goods. at $10 and $15—best values for those prices.

That's why this sale comes right now—this season's goods and the season still on. I must sell out this entire stock long before the customary end-of-the-season sales. Come in now. You can buy in-season suits and furnishings at out-of-season prices.

About 500 Suits to Choose From--All Quality Goods at Seventy-five Cents On the Dollar

Remember—Our present stock does not fit in with our future plans—We don't want to move a dollar's worth of goods. Take advantage of this sale for the real bargains it offers you, and help us get ready for the change in our business. A hearty welcome awaits you in our present store—and later in the new. Our time-tried policy of "please you or money back" will prevail then, as it does now—always, satisfaction and service.

SHOE OVER MILE FROM HIS BODY

One of Unexplained Mysteries Surrounding Death of Charles
Hall Near Milroy.

SHOES NOT EVEN SCRATCHED

Investigation by Grand Jury Will Continue Throughout Tomorrow.
Relatives on Stand.

The grand jury investigation into the death of Charles Hall, the Milroy high school student, whose mangled remains were found along the Big Four track near Williamstown, progressed slowly today, and from all indications another day would be required to hear all of the witnesses. Three were examined this morning and a large number were waiting to be heard.

There was no intimation so far that the grand jury has found any indications of foul play in connection with Hall's death. The three witnesses this morning were Paul Reardon, Ira Fleetwood and Raymond Reardon. The Reardon boys are cousins and Paul resides in Milroy and Raymond in Williamstown. Mr. Fleetwood was one of the first to reach the scene after Hall's body was found. Just what the boys know of the case was impossible to learn.

Coroner Barnett and Dr. Houghland of Milroy were to be used as witnesses and Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, and his two sisters, were also waiting to testify. The grand jury has no stenographer and the work of examining the witnesses takes more time than if they had one. The court was asked for a stenographer, but refused to grant the request.

One of the unexplainable things, it is stated, was the condition of Hall's shoes. He wore half shoes and neither was scratched or marred in any way. This is considered remarkable in view of the fact that his body was torn to pieces and had evidently been dragged quite a distance over the roadbed of the railway. One of the shoes was found close to the remains and the other was standing upright by the side of some lumber in Williamstown, over a mile and one-half away from where the remains were found.

It was stated today that it was natural to believe that the shoes would be badly battered and torn, but this was not the case and so far this has not been explained. Miss Roxie Fishback, the Williamstown girl on whom Hall had been to call on the night of June 3, finished her testimony to the grand jury late yesterday afternoon.

SMALL BLAZE.

Fire caused by an oil stove resulted in small damage this morning at the home of Charles Baldwin in East Eighth street. The fire department was called but a bucket brigade did effective work before the arrival of the department and it was not necessary to throw any water.

CLASS OF 25 FOR TONIGHT.

The Modern Woodmen will have a class of 25 tonight. This is the second-class adoption in the last two months. The class was obtained by O. O. Inman, district deputy, and members of the camp here. State Deputy Head Consul W. A. McGath will be present.

—Mrs. Lee V. Moore and daughter Claribel, of Indianapolis, came today for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Will Ames, south of the city.

BODY WRAPPED IN SHEET

Elizabeth Nolte, Missing Since Tuesday, Murdered at Cincinnati.

(By United Press.)
Cincinnati, O., June 17.—The body of Elizabeth Nolte, her throat slashed, was found wrapped in a sheet in a garbage can in the rear of her home today. The girl had been missing since Tuesday. Her parents believed she had been kidnapped. The scene of the murder is a thickly populated tenement district. The police have no clew.

BLUNDER IN BOND COSTS HIM MONEY

Morris Winship Fails to Land County Infirmary Contract at Connersville Through Oversight.

HIS BID LOWER BY $1,992.43

What was held to be a faulty bond cost Morris M. Winship, of this city, the contract for building the new county infirmary in Fayette county yesterday. Mr. Winship was the low bidder, being $1,992.43 lower than the man that got the contract, but the commissioners refused to give him the contract because his bond was not signed by two freeholders of Fayette county. The blunder in the bond was rather expensive for the taxpayers of Fayette county.

There were five bidders and Mr. Winship offers to do the work for $19,999.90. The next lowest bid was $21,992.33. This one was submitted by S. E. Miller and he was given the contract. There was some talk of attorneys for Mr. Winship contesting the action of the Fayette county commissioners.

TITLE TO EIGHTY ACRES IS INVOLVED

Suit of John C. Rufus and Homer Folger Against Emerson Barnard Is Finished.

GAUSE REFUSES APPOINTMENT

The case of John C. Folger, Rufus Folger and Homer Folger against Emerson Barnard, to quiet title, was completed at noon today in the circuit court before Judge Fred C. Gause, of Newcastle. The case was not argued and instead the attorneys will submit briefs to the court. The title to eighty acres of land in Posey township is involved in the suit.

Judge Gause declined to serve as judge in the case of Charles H. Alger against J. Milt Stiers. The suit is on a contract demanding $100. Judge Gause was appointed to hear this case by Judge Sparks and today declined the appointment.

TO STOP GIVING TRADING STAMPS

Home Merchants Association Business Men Will Redeem all Books or Parts of Books.

UP UNTIL THE FIRST OF JULY

Reported That Stamp Company Had Failed and Merchants Will Lose all of Their Investment.

The Home Merchants association, a trading stamp company, which has been doing business here for several months, has failed, according to word received here, and merchants who had been giving Home Merchant trading stamps, will lose whatever they had invested in stamps because the company will not redeem them.

The Home Merchant stamp business men held a meeting last night and decided to discontinue giving Home Merchant stamps and to redeem all Home Merchant stamp books, or parts of books, presented at the stations by July 1.

No one here seems to know just what happened, but it is reported that some one connected with the company decamped with some funds. Merchants here who have been giving the stamps today did not seem certain just what happened, except that they would lose all the money they paid the company for stamps.

The merchants giving the stamps decided last night that the only fair way to do would be to perform the duty they obligated themselves to with the public and redeem the stamps, regardless of their own loss.

Some of the merchants invested as much as sixty dollars in stamps at the outset and others are said to have invested more than that.

The Home Merchants association is a Kentucky corporation with headquarters at Louisville, Ky. It was the first trading stamp organization to contest the constitutionality of the trading stamp law enacted by the last Indiana legislature. After suit had been filed to test the law, it was discovered that the company had not incorporated under the laws of Indiana and qualified to do business in the state. Later it was announced that the company had qualified and another suit was brought to test the legality of the law. Another company joined with the Home Merchant and a temporary restraining order was granted compelling the prosecuting attorneys not to enforce the trading stamp law for the present. The real issue of the case has never been tried.

It was stated that it was known the affairs of the company were in a bad state for two weeks, but that definite action was not taken until last night. There have not been a great many calls for the stamps, it is said.

SOME NEW ONES CREATED

Style Show Committee is Made Permanent in Hope That Event May be Arranged by Merchants

S. L. Trabue, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Rush County, Ind., today announced the permanent appointments for this year.

One or two new committees were created, and a few that were in existence last year were either changed or discontinued.

One of the new committees that is expected to accomplish something is the style show committee. The members of that committee will mature plans to arrange for a combined style show of Rushville merchants in the spring and fall. The idea is believed to be an ideal one and has been enthusiastically received.

Another new committee is that pertaining to the horse show. Last year the Chamber of Commerce worked in conjunction with the horse show company by assisting in solicitation of donations and in other ways. The committee appointments follow:

Finance, Amusement—Horatio Havens, Chairman, R. L. Tompkins, Walter Easley, A. L. Riggs, O. P. Wamsley.

BATTLE OVER 600 MILES

Decisive Battle Being Waged From North Poland to Buckowina.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, June 17.—The Austro-Germans are now attacking the Russians along a front of more than 600 miles extending from North Poland to Buckowina, said a semi-official statement this afternoon.

"A decisive battle is being waged and important results are expected," it is said. Reports from Petrograd today declared Russian newspapers are severely condemning their Anglo-French allies for their inactivity.

ATTACKS AGAINST GERMANS ARE MADE

Publication Today Disturbs Administration and May Have Caused Suppression of Report.

CONCERNING THE NEBRASKAN

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 17.—The administration was disturbed today over publication of a flood of anti-German attacks which lacked confirmation. High officials let it be known that sensational newspaper reports implicating German representatives here are viewed with annoyance if not alarm.

In this connection the state department announced that Ambassador Page's report of the Nebraskan case would be withheld indefinitely. It was understood little doubt exists that a torpedo struck the Nebraskan and it was believed publication of the facts was postponed because of a desire to add no fuel to the flame of resentment against Germany.

PREPAREDNESS IS NOT PREVENTATIVE

W. J. Bryan Issues Another Statement That Being Prepared Provokes War.

PRAISES PRESIDENT WILSON

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 17.—Former Secretary of State Bryan in another statement on the "Causeless War" today asserted that preparedness provokes rather than prevents war. He praised President Wilson, "Happy for our nation that we have in the white house at this time a president who believes in setting the old world a good example instead of following the bad example which it sets in this matter," Bryan said.

He said he believed it would have been difficult for us to have kept out of this war if we had been prepared, for "the leading participants in this war were the ones that were best prepared." Bryan asked: "How can preparedness prevent war if we all prepare?"

SUBMARINE SINKS ANOTHER.

(By United Press.)
Rome, June 17.—An Austrian submarine has torpedoed the Italian submarine Medusa, the ministry of marine announced this afternoon. This is the first time in naval history in which one submarine has attacked another.

PEACE TALK NOW IS PREMATURE

So Regarded in London as British Believe Kaiser Has Reached High Peak of Offensive.

DID NOT ORIGINATE THERE

Allies Determined to Prosecute War Until Germany is Driven Back in Her Own Territory.

BY ED L. KEEN.

(European manager: United Press.)
London, June 17.—Although no official statement is now probable, I am authoritatively informed that the allies, especially Great Britain, would regard any German peace overture at this time as premature.

"Great Britain is determined to continue the war at least until Germany is driven back upon her own territory. Any peace talk that has reached the United States certainly has not its origin either in London or any other capital of the allies."

There are several reasons why Great Britain is particularly intending to prosecute the war until the German grip upon Belgium and northern France has been shaken. First of these is the firm belief that Germany has reached and passed the high mark of her offensive efficiency. England believes that from now on the kaiser must fight desperately on the defensive to hold what his armies gained by "getting the jump" on the allies at the beginning of the war.

TRANSPORTS BOMBARDED

Anglo-French Troops Suffer Heavy Losses in Dardanelles.

Constantinople, June 17.—Anglo-French troops at the Dardanelles suffered heavy losses in a bombardment of transports by Turkish batteries on Tuesday, an official statement from the war office said today. "Our artillery has been very effective against the enemy. Our aviators have bombed British air sheds near Sede-El-Bahr," it continued.

TRAFFORD SENT TO BOTTOM

British Steamer is Sunk by a German Submarine Wednesday.

(By United Press.)

London, June 17.—The British steamer Trafford was sunk by a German submarine thirty miles off the Small Islands yesterday. Her crew was landed at Milford Haven this morning.

In nearly the same spot, the London steamer Turnwell from Liverpool to New York, was stopped by a submarine and her crew ordered to take to the boats.

THREE TRANSPORTS SUNK.

(By United Press.)
Athens, June 17.—A British submarine sank three Turkish transports laden with troops for Dardanelles operations on Wednesday. A dispatch from Mudros this afternoon contained no mention of the fate of the Turkish soldiers.

U-14 IS DESTROYED.

(By United Press.)
Berlin, June 17.—The admiralty today officially admitted that the German submarine U-14 had been destroyed by the British and its crew taken prisoner.

WHEAT CUTTING IS NOT FAR AWAY

Hum of the Binder Will be Heard in
Rush County Next Week, it is Stoutly Asserted.

RAIN CUTS A BIG FIGURE

Delays Corn Cultivation, Damages
Clover Hay and Causes Some of
The Wheat to Stay Down.

The hum of the binder is going to be heard in Rush county next week.

This is the stout assertion of many who have been driving throughout the county this week. In spite of the fact that there has been much rain and little sunshine this month, wheat has been filling out rapidly and is now ripening very fast.

The rainfall in Rush county for the first half of this month set new records, it is believed, but it did not much more than make up for the lack of rain earlier in the spring, it is believed.

In some counties some farmers have not yet planted their corn because of the frequent rains, but in this county, it is said, there is no corn to be planted yet. Much corn was planted earlier than usual and in the majority of cases farmers did not suffer from early planting.

The majority of the corn is up and has been cultivated, but the rains have interfered greatly with this work and many fields were weedy and look almost as green as pasture land. It is stated that some corn can not recover from the lack of cultivation and that in this way the rains may indirectly damage the corn yield to some slight extent. Some farmers have resorted to the use of the hoe, but the work can not be done very fast or effectively that way.

The effects of the wind of last Sunday, which blew down much wheat in Rush county, can hardly be seen now. Some of the heavier straw, however, will never come up.

The rain is damaging the clover crop. It is good sized this year and is ready to cut for hay, but the loss will be considerable. If the hay has not been cut, it is leaning over from its own sheer weight because it is so wet, and that which has been cut is rotting on the ground. The clover is long and heavy and requires much sunshine to cure it.

in all the brightest hues that are worn decorously shrouded with stunning bathing mantles of the same shaded silk lined with awning striped silk in two brilliant contrasting colors. Certainly these simple next to nature fur and feathers of the elaborate costumes unfortunately, however, not only do they cost a pretty figure, but they need a pretty figure as well. As for the head coverings that offer their varied charms to the fair bather this season they are enough to turn the mermaids sea green with envy. There are the Chin Chin caps with their bright bobbing tassels, the gay little shady Coolie hats with their quaint cone shaped tops, smart rubberized turbans trimmed in rubberland and realistic flowers and fruits, military visored caps and striking black and white checked and striped silk handkerchief caps with sassy rabbit ear knots in front.

There are even dainty reticules and hand bags to dangle from a bathers wrist that hold within their ornate and waterproof silken folds the indispensable powder puff and rouge a mirror and a mouchoir. So you see there is really more to a bathing costume than you might think at a first and fleeting glance.

Fashionable Girls Are Actually Wearing Fur Boas In Summer

BY MARGARET MASON

(Written for United Press.)

Oh where is our white pussy cat? For days she's not been seen. Alack! she's wrapped around the throat

Some summer girl, I ween New York, June 17.—Pretty pussy better not stray far from home and hearth these days if she be white as snow. I doubt if even the gentle bunny ought to feel overly safe in his cosy hatch now that the dear fashionable girls are now all demanding white fur boas for the heated season. Positively it's enough to discourage any union thermometer the way the damsels are all wrapped up in these fur neck pieces. Why they are in them up to their very ears.

Truth in this instance is indeed stranger than fiction for what modern author ever would have the nerve to write "It was a close sultry afternoon in June as Belinda, wrapped a snowy fur boa about her, no less snowy throat glided rapturously into Percy's waiting arms." And yet we are in the mist of June and in the midst of fur swathed Belindas. Yea verily this is going a bit fur.

Even the gorgeous new silk sweaters of Italian silk dyed in the most wonderous shades of green, rose, blue and yellow are not quite the last word unless they be finished with a wide fur band around the hips and with a similar pelt edging the abbreviated sailor collar.

Many smart and fluffly little summer dance and evening frocks of chiffon, net or organdie are banded sparingly around the low cut out neck or have as a heading for one of the multitudinous flounces of the skirt narrow widths of unspotted ermine. An ebony hue dance frock of net is stunning with a touch of the startlingly contrasted white fur banding. An all white organdie crisp with many fluted ruffles, is virginal and yet chic with the square cut out bodice outlined with the snowy fur.

Even bathing suits cannot escape the fur craze and a cerise taffeta is foolishly decked out with an edging of unspotted ermine around the very low V shaped neck. It serves as a trimming also on the wide shade hat of cerise rubberized silk.

Another ridiculous but beautiful beach costume, for one can hardly go so far as to designate them as bathing suits, is of peacock blue taffeta trimmed in tinsel ribbon. The short full skirt is composed of four ruffles each with an edge of gold. Tinsel edges the three tiny ruffles that form the sleeves and finishes the wee ruffling outlining the very much cut out back and front low neck line. A Chinese cap of the blue with a gold tassel caps this glittering garb and peacock blue sandals have tinsel lace that twist around high up around the peacock blue silk incased limb turning it into a golden calf.

Proving that "beauty unadorned adorned the most" is still as true as the first time it was quoted are the one piece bathing suits of silk Jersey

SUN GETS UP EARLY IN MORNING NOW

Rises at 4:28 And Will Continue to do so Until June 23—Longest

Day June 22

DAY OF 15 HOURS, 6 MINUTES

The earliest hour for sunrise this summer is 4:28 a. m., at which hour the sun began to appear above the horizon Tuesday morning and will appear every morning until June 23. A variation of a few seconds will be noticeable each morning. Odd as it may appear the days for the latest hour for sunset do not coincide with the days for the earliest sunrise. The latest sunset hour will be 7:35 o'clock the evenings of June 30 and July 1. The longest day will be June 22 when the sun will rise at 4:28 o'clock in the morning and set at 7:34 o'clock in the evening, making a day of 15 hours and 6 minutes. Morning twilight will begin at 2:22 and evening twilight at 9:41 p. m., making a total of 4 hours and 13 minutes of twilight. That will leave four hours and 41 minutes darkness unaffected by the direct rays of the sun on June 22. The crescent moon between the first quarter and the full moon will shine that night until 1:02 in the morning "getting full" when it will set, thus leaving only 1 hour and 22 minutes when the direct or indirect rays of the sun will have no influence. The sun will be on the meridian of Washington at 12:01:37 on that day. The days on which noon and the meridian reading come most nearly co-inciding will be June 14 when the meridian will be reached 6 seconds before 12 o'clock and June 15, when it will be reached 6 seconds after 12 o'clock.

More Imports—Less Revenue.

Despite the handicaps to unrestricted trade caused by the European war, the total imports for April last reached the sum of $160,576,106, compared with $159,677,291 in July 1914, the last peace month under the Democratic tariff law. But whereas the imports for July, 1914, paid into the National Treasury the sum of $22,988,465, the imports for April, 1915, $1,000,000 greater, paid but $16,020,690 of revenue, a decrease of 32 per cent. Compared with the prevailing rate of duty during the entire period of the Underwood law up to March 1915, the decrease in the rate of duty for April was 25 per cent. The decrease in March was 7.7 below the prevailing rate.

In other words, farm products, which were nearly all put on the free list by the Underwood act, are becoming an increasingly larger share of our import trade. This hits the farmer and the Government revenues at the same time.

At the close of business for the week ending June 5, the Government's expenditures had exceeded receipts to the amount of $129,733,634.11. The balance in the Treasury was $16,457,408.70, as compared with a balance of $136,861.94 on the same date in 1913, before Democratic revenue and appropriation laws had taken effect.

Imports of Corn

In July, 1913, there were imported into the United States about 2000 bushels of corn. In October the Democratic tariff law put corn on the free list. In July, 1914, the importations of corn amounted to 1,764,575 bushels. In practically all the corn growing states there are boys' corn clubs, maintained for the purpose of teaching boys how to select seed and increase productivity with the hope of making corn growing more profitable for the American farmer. If every manager of a boys' club will give his pupils the figures quoted above, it is a safe prediction that when the lads arrive at voting age they will do something in addition to seed selection to make corn growing more profitable in this country. There will not only be fewer missing hills in the corn but more missing cargoes of corn imports.

It has been stated that Edward I. Swanson, the only man ever hanged in Rush county, just before his death, sang "Nearer My God to Thee." That was in 1829 and it is asserted that song was not written at that date. Although the song he sang is said to be known to some persons, it is nameless. In this emergency, the suggestion might be allowed that it be called the Swansong.

The United States bureau of labor statistics has issued a bulletin showing that the high cost of living is increasing steadily and has revealed a "healthy" advance in 1914, as compared to the year previous, when it was highest in the history of the United States. What has become of the boasted reduction in the high cost of living talked of so fluently by campaign orators in 1912?

Here's Where The Fun Comes In

Green With Envy.

Roy Magill, erstwhile Eatonville, who has unjustly, falsely, maliciously and with evil intentions accused certain honorable citizens of Rushville with having designs on his motorcycle, an instrument of prehistoric ages that the commonest and tamest driving machine can not become accustomed to, has seen fit to compare his beast of prey with a Ford. He has caused to be published a statement that the persons above-mentioned exchanged a wrench from their automobile for one on his two-legged varmint.

The presumption is that Mr. Magill is green with envy for his friends will no longer take him for a ride in his machines because every time he spits it sounds like a blow-out and he drives the driver insane.

People's Column

I wish in this way to express my sincere thanks to the Big Flatrock Sunday school for those beautiful havenin china plates which I received at the close of the Children's day program there June 6. I have directed this work there for over twenty years and consider it a pleasure rather than a burden. During all these years there has been the best of feeling, which speaks well for parents and children. We only hope the many beautiful lessons we have tried to teach will be for service and usefulness in His service.

Industrial Relations Commission Urges Government to Insure Against Sickness

IS EFFECTIVE IN EUROPE

Low Paid Worker is Unable to Take Insurance in The Existing Organizations

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 17.—There are already several million wage-earners in the United States insured in sickness insurance plans and organizations, and sickness insurance is even now recognized almost universally as the most feasible method by which workers can meet the expenses and the loss of wages occasioned by illness. The great majority of the insured workers, however, are the better paid; the low-paid worker who is least able to meet the cost of sickness and weather the periods of unemployment that sickness forces upon him, is rarely insured. The development of the existing agencies organizations into national or state systems of sickness insurance similar to those which have been so effective in European countries, is the next step for the United States.

These are striking facts brought out in a report on sickness insurance to the Federal Commission of Industrial Relations prepared by Surgeon B. S. Warren, of the United States Public Health Service who was detailed as sanitary advisor to the Commission, and Edgar Sydenstricker, a member of the Commission's staff, according to an announcement by the Bureau of the Public Health Service here.

The report includes the results of a study of the various sickness insurance systems in Europe and of plans in the United States. It strongly advocates a governmental system, in which employers, employees and the public contribute to the fund and co-operate in its control and administration, and which is closely linked to the governmental health promoting agencies, as the most effective from all sickness insurance for wage-earners. The report points out that in nearly all European countries the private sickness insurance plans and methods have given away to governmental systems, and the governmental systems now exist in Great Britain, Germany, Austria, Norway, Serbia, Russia, Luxembourg, Roumania, Italy (for miners) and France (for miners, seamen, and railway employees.)

The chief shortcomings of private or non-governmental sick benefit plans in this country are pointed out to be: (1) the low paid worker, who is financially unable to provide for healthful conditions and to meet the cost of illness, is not insured; (2) the employer as well as the employee has not a sufficient incentive to reduce prevalence of disease in their places of work, in homes of workers; (3) there is no close correlation of sickness insurance with the public health department, bureaus and boards.

A governmental system of sickness insurance, says the report, will prove to be a preventive measure as well as a method of enabling the low-paid worker to tide over periods of illness, since the cost of insurance is determined by the amount of sickness to be provided for. The lower the sick rate of any industry, trade or locality, the lower it is possible to put the rate of contribution by employer, employee, and government. A governmental system necessarily implies that all workers of a trade or industry in any locality will be insured. This will it is believed, enable the cost of insurance per insured person to be much less than it now provided for in the trade union, employers' sick benefit funds, and mutual benefit societies.

DECLARE THE CREW WAS INCOMPETENT

Survivors of Lusitania Also Swear Captain Ordered Them to Stop Lowering Life Boats.

PLENTY FOR AN EMERGENCY

London, June 17.—Charges that incompetency of the Lusitania's crew was partly responsible for the heavy loss of life when the liner was sunk by a submarine were made by survivors who testified today at the official inquiry. A passenger named Baker swore that the steamer lacked competent men to aid in lowering the boats and that several passengers undertook the task.

"I was helping to put one boat over," said Baker, "when one of Captain Turner's staff named Anderson megaphoned from the bridge: 'Stop lowering that boat. There is no danger. The ship isn't going to sink!'"

Recalled to the stand, Captain Turner denied he told passengers to leave the life boats. Mrs. Rossiter, a survivor, flatly contradicted Captain Turner. She said she heard the captain's order to leave the boats.

"The life boat I was in began leaking badly, the minute it struck the water," testified William Carins. "It had been lowered by the passengers because only a few of the crew were on deck. I jumped out when I saw the boat was going down and immediately afterward it disappeared. I don't know what became of the passengers who were in it."

The Lusitania did not carry anything in her cargo not possible under the laws of the United States, Sir Edward Carson, representing the board of trade, declared at the resumption of the inquiry into the sinking of the liner today. He offered in evidence an official statement to that effect.

Chief Steward Jones of the Lusitania testified today that the supply of life belts aboard was sufficient for emergencies.

104,000 Men

In the jungles and fields, in our factories, etc., 104,000 men are employed to meet the demand for Goodyear tires.

No other tire commands anywhere near such favor. And this spring has shown, in sales to dealers, an increase of 52 per cent.

three conspicuous improvements.

Some Goodyear supremacies can be seen at a glance. Compare size and thickness with the average tire. Compare number of fabric plies.

Prices Down

Goodyear has made in about two years three great price reductions, totaling 45 per cent. The last was on February 1st. Our matchless output enables a value which no other maker can duplicate.

Goodyears mean less trouble, less upkeep. That is proved by our exclusive features, our dominant place, and the swelling Goodyear tide. We urge you to join this army. Any dealer will supply you.

Extra Values

The reason is, we fortify our tires. We give the best that others give, plus five exclusive features. In costly ways, employed by no one else, we combat:

Rim-Cuts
Punctures
Blowouts
Loose Treads

Insecurity
Skidding

And we never skimp. Despite all price reductions, Goodyears are better than ever. Lately we have added

SERVICE
Of the three essentials—strength, organization and service—afforded to clients of this Bank, SERVICE is not the least important.
The Bank's entire organization is permeated with the spirit of service. It is not enough to accept and safeguard the banking and trust business of clients; every effort is put forth to be of additional active service, within the Bank's proper sphere.
For example, the Bank, if appointed custodian of securities, will as agent sign ownership certificates required by the Federal Income Tax Law, collect dividends and coupons promptly as they mature, and either credit or remit the proceeds to the client; and will promptly notify him should any "rights" or other subscription privileges attach to the securities held.
Another example, clients are welcome to the Bank's facilities for investment and for investigating and analyzing the value of securities.
Many other examples of special service to clients might be mentioned, all of which would help to explain the rapid and substantial growth of this Bank's business.

BONE PLAYS ARE STILL PLAYED

Larry Doyle Pulls Latest When he Caught Ball That he Had Hit to The Outfielder

MERKLE'S NEVER FORGOTTEN

Jess Willard And Jim Coffey to Meet in Ten Rounds at Brighton Beach Labor Day

BY BARR YFARIS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, June 17.—Fred Merkle
"pulled a boner" that cost the New York Giants a pennant. That was years ago but the fans have never forgotten. "Bonehead" is hurled at him to this day. "Laughing Larry" Doyle was guilty of a thoughtless act fully as bad or worse than Mer-kle's a couple of weeks ago but already his lapse of memory has been forgotten. It came in a game that didn't particularly count. Which causes one to think that, after all,
it isn't what you do that hurts—it is when you do it.

Merkle's "bone," as is well known was in forgetting to touch second in order to complete a play. Doyle's stunt was even more glaring piece of stupidity. With a man on third and one out Doyle hit a long fly to the outfield in a recent series at Boston. The man on third—Burns—dashed for the plate after the ball was caught. The ball was hit so far that he was sure to score. Doyle rounded first just as the ball was thrown in from the outfield. The ball came directly at him and he reached out and caught it, tossing
it to a Boston player. Immediately a protest was lodged with the umpire, who thereupon called Burns out because Doyle had interfered with the ball.

Doyle, who has been one of the National league stars for years, had no alibi. He frankly admitted he had been guilty of a "boner." His only explanation was that he thought as Burns had crossed the plate the play was completed and that his touching the ball would have no effect.

Had Doyle's play been made in a world's series game, as Merkle's was,
he would have been marked for the remainder of his baseball career.
He would have taken Merkle's place in the gallery of bonehead plays. But as it was done in just an ordinary, everyday battle, it quickly slips from sight—and thought.

It is almost a settled fact that Jess Willard and Jim Coffey are to meet in a ten round argument at the Brighton Beach arena on Labor Day.
The horde of managers and promoters entangled in guiding Willard's affairs have been dickering with Promoter Harry Pollok and Coffey's manager, Billy Gibson, and have about agreed on terms. Coffey is recuperating following his hand-busting contest with Jim Flynn and it is understood he won't battle before the Labor Day date so as to be certain that he won't run a change of losing and thereby killing himself as an opponent for Johnson's conqueror.

A Willard-Coffey bout now—especially a ten round affair—seems mighty futile. That the champion will win seems a certainty. Coffey's showing against the battle-scarred veteran, Jim Flynn, showed that he is no match, at least now, for the title loser. Willard is heavier, taller, a harder puncher and able to take more punishment than the big Irish battler. In his clash with Flynn, Coffey gave indications of having a "glass" jaw. When Flynn caught him with a swing Coffey zigzagged around appeared considerably dazed. Flynn's poor judgement of distance is all that saved Coffey from a knockout. Flynn's swings were wild. Had he been able to connect a second time Coffey likely would have gone down for keeps.

Willard would be a twenty to one shot to win from Coffey. But the promoters have to eat—as do the managers—and the public will undoubtedly flock to the bout by the thousands.

WORLD PEACE MEETING OPENS

Conference to Consider League of Nations Open in Famous Independence Hall

WILLIAM H. TAFT PRESIDES

Several Proposals Will be Submitted
One of Which Would Have U.
S. Join With Other Countries

(By United Press.)
Philadelphia, June 17.—A worldwide peace conference convened here today in historic Independence
Hall to consider the formation of a League of Nations. Fostered by ex-President William Howard Taft, who will preside at the meeting, the conference is said to have the unofficial endorsement of President Wilson.

The movement is regarded as the most definite step yet taken toward international amity. Attending the conference are over one hundred prominent men of this country—
public officials, international law experts, humanitarians and presidents of universities.

The conference was called not merely for the purpose of discussing abstract questions of peace and arbitration, but to put squarely before the conference a proposition for the United States to join a peace league composed of every great nation. The league is intended to bind the signatories to agree to certain definite lines of international action, the most important of which is that the Powers joining the league utilize their joint military forces to prevent any one of their number going to war precipitately.

Two other proposals will be submitted for the conference consideration. One provides for the creation of an international judicial tribunal and the other aims to create an international Council of Conciliation—which has not been discussed hitherto—for questions that are known as non-judicial, or those not considered triable in a judicial tribunal.

RUSHERS OUT FOR REVENGE

Face Hard Game in Cambridge City Contest But Team is Confident of Winning.

HOPES TO KEEP LEAD IN RACE

Hewitt Will Oppose Black and a Pitchers' Battle is Expected—
Other League Games.

The Rushers face another hard game Sunday afternoon when they tackle Cambridge City of the Indiana State League. Cambridge City has been playing consistent ball and two weeks ago battled Newcastle for eleven innings. The Rushville team is out to win and thus retain the lead in the league race. Manager Davidson and the club directors are out to win the pennant and right now believe the team is the equal of any in the circuit.

The Cambridge City team has been strengthened by the addition of a real pitcher. The pitcher is Black, late of Ohio State league, and the Rushers may have some trouble with him. The Cambridge City backers are figuring on their team running all over Rushville and one of the best games of the season is expected to result as considerable rivalry has been stirred up.

The Rushville team will line up the same as in the game with Connersville with the exception of the first baseman. Edward Sandman will again play first base and his hitting should help the team. The umpire for Sunday's game has not been announced by the league officials but one thing is certain the Cambridge City gang will cut out the rag chewing because the umpire is empowered to stick on a few fines.

Other league games Sunday are Cincinnati at Connersville and Newcastle at Richmond. Great interest is shown here in the outcome of all of these games. On the following Sunday Richmond plays here, being the first appearance of a Richmond team here for several years.

The club officials are preparing to take care of a large crowd Sunday.
The club has not had a very good season so far on account of the weather and the officials are hoping for a good day Sunday. The class of ball as being displayed in the Indiana circuit should have the support and if this kind of ball is not supported the fans evidently don't care for baseball.

INCOME TAX FALLS DUE ONCE MORE

Internal Revenue Collector Sends Out
Notices Calling Attention to End of Year June 30.

EARLY SETTLEMENT URGED

Income tax payments must be made on or before June 30, 1915, according to a notice that has been sent out by Collector Peter J. Krueyer, with offices in Indianapolis. The official order is as follows:

"Income tax payments (corporations and individuals) are due and payable on or before June 30, 1915.
On account of the enormous rush of business during the month of June in the internal revenue office
early settlement of taxes is urged.
This will enable the office to issue receipts promptly and give ample time for any adjustment before the final date of payment on June 30, 1915.

The deputy collectors are urging all those who owe income tax to settle with the government by the date
mentioned in the notice, as failure to do so might mean an additional payment for penalty.

THE FIRST THING A GOOD DOCTOR PRESCRIBES

A good physic and liver stimulant is usually the first remedy prescribed by the physician when called to a case. He does so because he knows that most of our ills are directly or indirectly due to constipation, sluggish liver, etc.; therefore his first concern is to reach and remove the probable cause of the illness, and the system, relieved of this poisonous feces, again becomes normal.
And that is exactly the idea behind Santal Laxative Tablets, a remedy for constipation, indigestion, and liver troubles, every ingredient of which has been passed on and approved by an eminent chemist, which you or any of your family may take and which easily and painlessly, but thoroughly and effectively, will cleanse your system, stimulate your liver, thereby ridding your organs and your blood of many of the underlying causes of illness and trouble.

Santal Laxatives contain no calomel. They are mild yet very effective. Do not gripe nor irri-

RESULTS SHOWN IN BIG REVIVAL

Campaign to "Save Terre Haute" is Creating Great Interest—
2,500 Converts so Far

CONDUCTED BY THE REV. LYON

Has Attacked Successfully Every
Social Institution in City
Where Liquor is Sold

(By United Press.)

Terre Haute, Ind., June 17.—That the pendulum which has swung to the extreme in vice in Terre Haute is swinging rapidly back in the opposite direction is indicated by the results of an eight week's evangelistic campaign conducted by Rev. Milford F. Lyon under the direction of thirty-seven Protestant churches which united in an effort to "save Terre Haute."

The big parade in which ten thousand church members participated has been the most stirring event of the long series of meetings during which more than 2,500 persons in tabernacle audiences alone have decided to lead Christian lives.

The parade was headed by an electric lighted cross drawn by four white horses. City officials, Chamber of Commerce men and the members of the Lyon party followed. The large choruses sang through megaphones their hymns resounding wonderfully throughout the heart of the business section. Never before in the history of Terre Haute has there been such a demonstration for any cause. Scores have made decisions to start life anew in the dozens of shops, factory and store meetings that have been held by the members of the Lyon party.

The tabernacle which was especially erected for the meetings has a seating capacity of more than six thousand and has been filled almost nightly and on numerous occasions hundreds have been turned away. Two choruses of eight hundred voices have been alternately providing the music for the night meetings.

Large delegations numbering in the hundreds have marched through the streets of the city singing gospel songs and carrying banners with religious inscriptions to the meeting place every night. In these delegations have been men and women of every walk of life. From factory to bank—all institutions have been represented. One of the notable features among the women delegations has been an organization of girls from an enameling works whose singing has attracted wide attention.

More than three hundred business women have organized for Bible study and to take up the "big sister" movement. This means that every member is to look after the welfare of some girl who needs encouragement or perhaps has fallen.

"Terre Haute will be saved now or never in this generation" is what Rev. Lyons has told his audiences. "There will be a new Terre Haute" he added.

He has met with criticisms of his meetings with this remark:—"You don't like revivals; neither does the devil." He has attacked every social institution where liquor has been served. He attacked the Terre Haute country club most bitterly.

Social functions among the church people even the church societies regular social meetings have been dispensed with entirely during the revival. Since the meetings started all the liquor laws have been enforced in Terre Haute—midnight and Sunday closing. One third of the houses in the "redlight" district have been vacated. Dr. Lyon claims it was the influence of the meetings that brought about the changes. He said further that his life had been threatened by the saloon interests because he had gone after them so bitterly. "I don't know whether I will leave Terre Haute in a baggage car or in a Pullman" he said.

Harsh criticism was made of the Terre Haute school board for permitting the pupils to dance at their social functions held at the schools. He said the dance had sent as many young people on the wrong road as booze. He scored the use of cigarettes and said that a preacher that used tobacco was no better than a dog.

Next to the large number of conversions perhaps the most important event of the meetings will be the organization after the revival ends of all Protestant churches that have participated in the campaign for the purpose of continuing the work of redeeming Terre Haute.

DISPUTES PART OF VETTER'S STORY

George W. Looney, Jr., of this City

Moved From Here to Missouri.

MORE OF THE SWANSON STORY

George W. Looney, Jr., 827 North Main street, disputes the statement of Chas. Vetter, of Greenfield formerly of this county, made in a letter to the Daily Republican, that David Looney, who buried Edward I. Swanson, the only man ever hung in Rush county, moved to Missouri from Rush county. David Looney was a great uncle of George W. Looney, Jr., of this city, and Mr. Looney says that he lived and died on what is now known as the Wesley Mauzy farm east of the city.

Mr. Looney says that his uncle did what few men would have done. He buried Swanson, unassisted, in an unmarked grave on his farm "in the dead of the night." Mr. Looney says that no one ever knew where the body of Swanson lay because his uncle never confided in anyone in that regard.

Rushville People Praise Simple Mixture

Many in Rushville praise the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler's. This remedy is the most THOROUGH bowel cleanser ever sold being even used successfully in appendicitis. ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gasses rumble and pass out. Adler's cannot gripe and the INSTANT action is surprising. P. E. Wolcott, druggist. (Advertisement.)

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Bladder troubles you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids
and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustichian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any

SHEDS NEW LIGHT ON EDUCATION

Bulletin From State Department Explains More Fully Practical Side of Vocational Work.

INTERESTS FARMERS IN BOYS

In 1914 20,000 Pupils Cultivated Home Gardens Under Direction of Public Schools.

Indianapolis, June 17.—While in a general way the people of the state have heard and known something of the vocational educational work undertaken under the state law, and while the people patronizing the rural schools have probably a more direct and intimate knowledge of the agricultural instruction in the rural schools, the bulletin just issued by the state department of public instruction serves to shed a new and better light. This bulletin is splendently illustrated and treats especially of agricultural instruction and gives a summary of what has been accomplished as shown by official reports.

There is nothing more practical or valuable to the community and the individual than this one feature in all the branches taught in any of the schools. It is the education that has taught the farmer's boy in Indiana to produce forty-seven more bushels of corn to the acre than his father produces the same year in an adjoining field. The boys have also produced this larger crop at 21 cents a bushel against the state average of 35 cents a bushel. The farmers are naturally becoming interested in what the boys are doing.

Dairy herds have been improved and many cows have been sent to the butcher because the boys and girls have "shown the folks" the milk was useless when put to scientific test.
Others of the herd have been made to improve the milk production by proper feeding methods. Whole herds have grown more valuable by elevating the stock with little or no extra expense to the farmer. Boys and girls have been allowed to take home milk testing apparatus in order
many times "to convince the rest of the family."

Orchards long neglected and of no apparent productive value have been revived and improved by proper pruning, spraying, grafting and budding, and in many instances the buletin tells us that in addition to the planting of new orchards by the boys the care of the old ones has been turned over entirely by their fathers with excellent results. The bulletin says further that interest in these matters is by no means confined to the rural districts, but that in 1914
"twenty thousand pupils in town and city schools in Indiana cultivated home gardens under the direction of the public schools."

Poultry raising has not only been taught on practical lines at the schools but in a far more attractive way has it been taught by the pupils working at home. This adds new interest to the work and study.
It applies the knowledge directly and at once to something extremely practical. It is the actual development of the productive side of poultry study by working with the hens each pupil owns. Both boys and girls are most earnest in this one line and a large buyer in one of the counties tells us in this bulletin that as the result of introducing better and purer breeds and getting reliably uniform eggs from the boys and girls
he was able to pay them two cents a dozen more than formerly for the eggs. He also knows their hens will lay in winter. A demand was created. The eggs were larger and were of one size and looked much better in the grocers' stock.

In the care and management, breeding and feeding of all kinds of stock the scholars are very soon impressed with the importance of eliminating scrubs and improving, and bidding up the herds, rather than allowing them to take care of themselves in any old way and deteriorate. Fathers and mothers who were at first prejudiced because of this smashing of precedents which were

"good enough for us" have recognized the improvements and many farms in the state are examples of the elevating influences of these schools.

Testing of corn and other seeds
before planting has had its value so thoroughly demonstrated from the profit side that there are some counties where the farmers are almost a unit in refusing to plant untested seed of any sort. While testing seed has been advocated for many years and by some farmers practiced, one year of teaching it in the schools,
taking it home in practical demonstration to the individual farmers and trying it out, has done more in Indiana than years of talk in granges and publishing editorials in newspapers.

The bulletin just issued is supplied with specific information from nearly all the counties, telling exactly what has been and is being done, and while the general comments seem most surprising they are really surpassed
in the recital of specific instances.

As a result of the work in the schools about Valparaiso, for instance, the farmers became so much interested that they organized an evening class to meet every Friday night, and this class is instructed by the same man who has been teaching their boys. This same thing is happening all over the state. These Valparaiso farmers are now raising alfalfa on land that they were sure would never produce it. The boys and that night school grew alfalfa.

At Worthington seven boys of the seventh, eighth and high school grades are managing 546 acres of corn on their fathers farms this year. Others are raising poultry while still others have planted to-matos. The teacher of their school is giving his attention to instructing them in the field.

About Trafalgar the boys have planted several orchards for the farmers and are restoring old ones.
They are looking after these as they develop and are being paid for the work. They are experts with the assistance of the teachers. The farmers in this same neighborhood go to the school with questions about the treatment of their soils and the planting of certain crops.

The instruction to pupils at Pine Village is given almost exclusively on the home farms of the pupils. The first year of this work saw 15,000 acres planted with tested corn where not a grain had ever been tested before. Improved methods of planting and cultivation go with the better seed.

These are by no means isolated cases, but are taken at random from this bulletin. They illustrate the general rule all over the state. There are 7600 teachers in Indiana giving their attention to this agricultural teaching. It is because this is so large and so interesting a subject that State Superintendent of Public Instruction Greathouse has prepared an illustrated pamphlet for general distribution and has already sent out a few thousand copies upon application and to many whom he judged would be interested.

A PLAIN STATEMENT FROM WM G. MULNO IN REGARD TO HIS

CHANGE-OF-POLICY SALE

Commencing June 19th, Ending July 3d

I must immediately close out my entire stock. I am not going out of business, but this sale is absolutely necessary before I can carry out my plans for my future business.

There is a demand in Rushville for a store specializing in Ready Made Clothing of genuine value at the popular prices of $10 and $15. I am going to re-organize my business immediately upon that basis.

On August First I open a new store under this new policy. This change demands that I close out all high-priced ready-made clothing. I do not want to move a dollar's worth of goods from the present store. Everything must be sold. I want to go into the new store with an absolutely new stock.

This is not an ordinary sale—not a mere clean-up such as you might expect at the season's end—but a complete closing out of stock right in season at

Seventy-five Cents on the Dollar

Look at the values offered! Practically 500 suits—all standard makes—A. B. Kirschbaum, Garson-Meyer Co., and the Roberts Wicks Co.'s lines for men and young men—also the Ederheimer-Stein Co.'s line of boys' and children's clothing—quality goods—at prices you cannot afford to overlook.

Light-weight, seasonable goods—ready to put on and wear now. Each suit plainly marked with the original price and special price for this sale. There are a few overcoats, too, at prices that will pay you to buy now and lay them away until cold weather comes

A New Store--A New Policy

In our new store we will specialize exclusively in extra-quality hand-tailored suits at $10 and $15. For those who wish higher-priced garments, we will carry a complete assortment of samples from which you may choose your own materials and have your suits made-to-measure at $16.50, $18 and $20. In selling these made-to-measure garments at these prices, we can give greater values and increased satisfaction. The Mulno policy of quality and guaranteed satisfaction will prevail. We please you or refund your money. Every article we sell is backed by our established reputation for honesty, courtesy and extra-full value.

In adopting the new policy for the new store, it is absolutely impossible to carry in stock the higher-priced ready-made clothing, as we will need every foot of space for the larger stock of popular-priced goods. at $10 and $15—best values for those prices.

That's why this sale comes right now—this season's goods and the season still on. I must sell out this entire stock long before the customary end-of-the-season sales. Come in now. You can buy in-season suits and furnishings at out-of-season prices.

About 500 Suits to Choose From--All Quality Goods at Seventy-five Cents On the Dollar

Remember—Our present stock does not fit in with our future plans—We don't want to move a dollar's worth of goods. Take advantage of this sale for the real bargains it offers you, and help us get ready for the change in our business. A hearty welcome awaits you in our present store—and later in the new. Our time-tried policy of "please you or money back" will prevail then, as it does now—always, satisfaction and service.
